Sharon Boyes-Schiller, Managing Director of SkyScape Solutions, will be speaking at the Business Process Management (BPM) 2005 Conference in London, 9 – 11 May 2005. She will present "Leveraging Your Business Process Model to Enhance Profitability." The focus is on the creation of business profitability improvement through the development and implementation of business process modelling. The key topics covered will be:

- Demonstrating return on investment through the use of business process modelling (BPM) and workflow technology;
- Increasing the opportunities for ROI through extending the uses of the business process model;
- Decreasing the risk in implementing a BPM environment.

Sharon will also present a case study which shows the value of integrated workflow in a logistics environment.

As the UK Chair of the Workflow Management Coalition (WfMC), Sharon is a frequent speaker at supply chain and workflow conferences. Her presentations at the recent Asia Business Forum Workflow Conference in Singapore, and the Global Workflow Conference at the National e-Science Centre in Edinburgh were rated "tops", "highly entertaining" and "thought-provoking".
